DAYLIGHT BURGLARS

ENTER FATHER O'NEILL'S RESIDENCE WHILE SECOND MASS IS IN SESSION

While Father J. S. O'Neill was conducting second mass at about 11 o'clock Sunday forenoon in the Holy Family Catholic Church his residence near the church at 825 E. Lomita avenue was entered by burglars and every room ransacked for valuables. The burglars gained admittance by cutting an opening in a window glass near the lock, making it possible for the arm to be extended through the opening and unfasten the lock, and raise the window. Once inside the intruders made themselves at home, unfastening the door from the inside to give them an easy and speedy way of exit should their presence become known.

A large collection of money had been taken up at the early mass, and the supposition is that the men committing the crime were aware that this collection had been taken and surmised that Father O'Neill had left it in his residence, but in this the burglars were disappointed for the money had not been left there, and neither were there any valuables to be found—a cheap revolver and some pieces of Canadian money were the only articles that the men deemed worth carrying away. Brave men, indeed, to burglarize a house in the shadow of a church. At present writing the burglars have not been captured.

Father O'Neill thinks the culprits are possibly young boys who do not realize the seriousness of their crime. The loaded revolver may be a serious temptation to them and the Canadian money will possibly be a clue to their identity.

CRAMPTOMS HAVE RETURNED

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Crampton of 213 East Chestnut have returned from a fortnight's auto trip in the north in which they visited friends at Mill Valley, which they found most beautiful; Oakland, Martinez, Hercules and Monterey, where they were entertained by Mrs. Douglas, who formerly resided in Glendale. They came home by way of Sacramento, where they visited the state capitol and saw the state fair grounds, but they were too early for the fair. It was a delightful tour with no auto trouble by the way. Mrs. Charles Hallett, who accompanied them as far as Hercules, remained there for a visit with her son. Last week Mr. and Mrs. Crampton entertained old friends from Kansas City who left Sunday. They report that Miss Grace Crampton, now in Kansas City, is being lavishly entertained by her friends there and is enjoying herself immensely.

BERKEYS PROSPERING AT BUENA PARK

Mrs. L. E. Berkey and the two younger children, Elizabeth and Everett, of Buena Park, spent Saturday and Sunday with Glendale relatives and friends. Mrs. Berkey says they are getting along very nicely on their 5½-acre ranch bought last winter and that the oil drillers are creeping closer and closer to them every day. Many of their neighbors have leased their holdings to drillers and hopes of a big strike run high. Mr. Berkey is still with the Standard Oil Co. and his broken hand has healed so that it does not bother him any more.

ENJOYED WASHINGTON

MISS LULU GREEN RETURNS TO LA CANADA AFTER SPENDING SUMMER WITH SISTER

Miss Lulu Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Green, has returned from Washington, D. C., where she spent the summer with her sister, Miss Katherine Green who is in the employ of the government. It was a great experience for her and one which she enjoyed immensely. Besides many interesting places which she visited in Washington, she did considerable sight-seeing in and around New York and at points of interest in Virginia. On her way home she stopped in Missouri to visit her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Green, who accompanied her the rest of the way and are now the guests of her parents.

The differences between the east and the west interested her greatly. The fact that the houses were not so modern either in construction or equipment and the contentment with which occupants submitted to the use of gaslight in place of electricity and to old-fashioned fittings of other

"ANGELS AND HORNETS"

STIRRING ADDRESS BY REV. EDMONDS OPENING MONTH OF "PREPARATION"

The following are extracts from an address given in the Presbyterian Church yesterday by the pastor, Rev. W. E. Edmonds, opening the month of "preparation," as set forth by the plan of the General Assembly:

Text, Ex. 23:20,28. "Behold, I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared. * * * And I will send hornets before thee."

Canaan is not a symbol of heaven. When we walk the streets of gold, there will be no walls of Jericho to throw down; no unclean things to drive out before us; no storms that shall ruffle the surface of the sea of glass. Heaven is a place of perfection with nothing to mar or molest. In heaven there will be a program of service. What that service will be it can only be surmised. Canaan is a type of the human soul, just as the River Jordan is symbolic of a surrendered life. You who have entered into the surrendered life, witness this morning, that warfare began in the soul the moment that life commenced. There are a great many things that come into the life of a true believer which would become "hills of difficulty" but for God's promise, "I will be with you even unto the end."

In following the Angel there are three things necessary to conquer in getting the victory. God sets forth very clearly certain conditions we must observe if we are to go in and possess the land. But what strength

OFF FOR JOLLY OUTING

WHOLE FAMILY AND TWO MORE START ON TEN DAYS' CAMPING TRIP

A happy, laughing group of nine people, man, women, boys and girls, were gathered on the sidewalk in front of the Evening News office, Saturday noon, all in khaki, the boys with guns. Inquiry developed that the party was waiting for some adjustments to the family auto before starting on a ten days' outing, over around Bishop and Mono Lake. They were J. Todd McClammy, his wife, their daughters, Ila Mae and Marvelle, and sons, J. T., Jr., William and George, of 436 West Harvard; Mrs. R. L. Boone of Brawley, a sister of Mr. McClammy; also Miss Mildred Svenson of 142 North Isabel. They had a complete camping outfit packed on a trailer and expected to have a glorious time sleeping in tent and machine at night, traveling leisurely by day and enjoying the grand scenery of valley, plain and mountain. They went by way of Saugus, Bouquet Canyon and Fresno. As the combined load of people and equipage on car and trailer was over 4,000 pounds in weight. Mr. McClammy said he thought some mighty careful driving would be necessary, especially if they decided to go over Tioga Pass.

REV. SCOTT MEETING WITH SUCCESS ON EASTERN TRIP

Mrs. Charles H. Scott reports that her husband has visited Chicago, Detroit, Dayton and Cincinnati. Doors have opened to him more easily than he expected and he is securing all the data he went to get. He was in New York the latter part of the last week, but expected to spend a portion of Saturday and Sunday with his brother, who is taking post-graduate work at the University of Boston and at Harvard. Next Wednesday he expects to be in Detroit and Friday again in Chicago. He has not yet decided when he will start for home.

MILLER HOLMAN EXPECTED HOME TUESDAY

Mrs. Geo. E. Holman of 104 North Central avenue was considerably uneasy at not hearing from her son, Miller, since he landed in New York, so on Saturday she telegraphed to the Presidio about him and was rejoiced to receive a message from him stating he expected to be home Tuesday.

NEW AUTO BUS ROUTE OPENED

Harry A. Wilson's new auto bus line from Pasadena to Ocean Park touching at all intermediate points, started operations last Saturday, branching off of Colorado at the east city limits to come through on Broadway to Central. This should prove a very popular route for Glendale people wanting to go to Eagle Rock, Pasadena or to the beaches.

CONQUERING HERO RETURNS

PERSHING GIVEN PERMANENT COMMISSION AS GENERAL IN AMERICAN ARMY ON ARRIVAL FROM FRANCE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, September 8.—General Pershing arrived this morning from France aboard the Leviathan. Throughout the trip up the channel to the Hoboken docks he was welcomed by a Bedlam of whistles and cheers which increased when the Leviathan tied up at the docks. General Pershing stood at attention on the bridge while the band played the Star Spangled Banner.

He then came ashore and was greeted first by Secretary Baker. He was escorted to a platform built on the wharf where Secretary Baker made an address of welcome and presented Pershing with a permanent commission as General in the American army.

He read a letter to Pershing from President Wilson praising his work and that of the army. Pershing was visibly affected.

Former Secretary McAdoo, Congressman Mondell and Representative Wadsworth also spoke. Pershing in a brief reply declared the credit for victory belonged to the entire nation which gave the army united support.

WOULD DIE FOR PEACE TREATY

IN ADDRESS AT OMAHA PRESIDENT WILSON PRESENTED HIS ARGUMENT AGAINST RESERVATIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

OMAHA, September 8.—President Wilson addressing a crowd of 5000 persons here this morning argued against reservations to the peace treaty.

He declared the treaty authenticates the Monroe doctrine and maintained that reservations regarding domestic questions are superfluous as the treaty does not interfere in such matters.

He explained in detail how the league is designed to prevent wars.

"This is the work of honest men," he exclaimed holding out a copy of the treaty. The crowd broke into prolonged cheering.

Declaring that reservations would result in the treaty being sent back to Paris he asked if that is what the people want.

"No, no," shouted the crowd.

The president admitted that he disliked the Shantung settlement but declared it would not help the Chinese to get justice to refuse to ratify the treaty.

Asking if the people wanted to fight England, France, and Japan to get Shantung for China he reiterated his challenge to league opponents to "put up or shut up," an asked if it were possible that any group of Americans want to substitute "sinister pan-Americanism" for "pan-Germanism," adding, "that if hideous yet there are indications that some men in this country would not find such a program unpalatable."

The president declared he would "be glad to die," that the peace treaty might be ratified.

He left at noon for Sioux Falls, S. D. where he is to speak tonight.

COLONEL HOUSE LEAVES LONDON

WILSON REQUESTS HIM TO REMAIN INDEFINITELY IN PARIS ACCORDING TO LONDON DISPATCHES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, September 8.—It has been learned authoritatively that Colonel House will return at once from London to Paris where he will remain indefinitely at the specific request of President Wilson.

WILL FIGHT LEAGUE

JOHNSON, BORAH AND McCORMICK COMPLETE PLANS TO FOLLOW WILSON ON TOUR OF COUNTRY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, September 8.—League of Nations opponents declared today that President Wilson is now arguing on the basis of what he tried to get in Paris and not what he got.

Senators Johnson, Borah and McCormick are completing their plans for a tour of the country in a campaign against the treaty.

"I deny he is more altruistic than I," Senator Johnson declared in an interview today, "but I will not bury my American ideals under the imperialism of Europe. The president's ideals were abandoned and beaten at the peace conference."

IN MOURNING FOR SAILORS

SAN FRANCISCO HONORS MEMORY OF THREE WHO DIED IN FIRE ON FLAGSHIP OF PACIFIC FLEET

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, September 8.—The city today began public mourning for the three sailors who died yesterday during a fire on the superdreadnaught, New Mexico. A public funeral will be asked.

ROBBINS—FRANKLIN

PRETTY WEDDING AT HOME OF MR. AND MRS. J. H. FRANKLIN SUNDAY

Surrounded by their relatives and a few intimate friends, Miss Veta Franklin and Charles Frederick Robbins took the vows which united them in marriage Sunday, September 7th, at the home of the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Franklin, 246 North Central avenue. The home had been made festive for the occasion by elaborate decorations in lavender and yellow arranged by Booth Franklin, who is a professional decorator, and the effect was very appropriate and pleasing. Dr. C. C. Selecman of Trinity Church, Los Angeles, a relative of the Franklins, performed the ceremony at 1 o'clock, using the ring service. The bride was charming in a gown of pale gray Georgette crepe as she took her place under a bower of roses and ferns. She was attended by her nieces, Miss Isabel and Miss Josephine Franklin and by little Miss Barbara Boles, daughter of Major and Mrs. S. H. Boles of Washington, D. C., a relative of the groom. Little Miss Nancy Blake Head, also a niece of the bride, carried the ring in the heart of a rose until the time came when the bride's father gave her into the keeping of her husband, who placed the platinum and diamond circlet on her finger.

Before the ceremony Mrs. Frank M. Head, sister of the bride, sang the wedding song, "Sing On," accompanied by Mrs. Harry Franklin, who also played the Mendelssohn Wedding March.

The buffet wedding breakfast was served in the dining room which was beautifully decorated in lavender and yellow. The outstanding feature was a huge white wedding cake with kewpies alternately garbed in lavender and yellow perched at the end of each slice. These with a slice of wedding cake served as favors.

Mr. and Mrs. Robbins are in this vicinity for a week, as the bride, who was injured in an automobile accident some weeks ago, is unable to travel. In a week or two they expect to go to Santa Barbara where they will spend their honeymoon at the Belvidere, later going to Dallas, Texas, for the winter. Eventually they expect to locate in Southern California.

SPECTACULAR FIRE

GARAGE AND FORD DESTROYED —ADJOINING BUILDINGS CONSIDERABLY DAMAGED

There was quite a spectacular fire on East Palmer avenue Sunday at midnight. Mrs. E. L. Early, who lives at No. 519, heard her neighbor, Geo. Betz, who lives just west of her, drive his Ford into the garage about 10 o'clock. Soon after she thought she smelled smoke and looked all around over her own premises, but discovered nothing, so she supposed someone had been burning weeds or trash and went to bed. Shortly after midnight she awoke and saw a glare of light over at her neighbor's. She hurriedly arose and called the fire department, then gave the alarm. By this time Mr. Betz's garage was wrapped in flames, which were shooting high in the air. When the engines arrived the firemen turned their attention to adjoining buildings. Mrs. Early's garage and woodshed were burning by this time, but well-directed streams of water soon extinguished the flames, but not until the two buildings were considerably damaged and the division fence destroyed. Mr. Betz's garage and Ford were completely destroyed. With Mrs. Early, who is a nurse, was Mrs. Kate Fenstermaker, of the De Luxe Apartments, who was being treated for sciatic rheumatism, but fortunately she suffered no ill effects from the excitement.

COL. THORNTON'S IMPROVEMENTS

The residence property at the corner of Brand boulevard and California avenue, recently purchased by Col. Tom Thornton, is undergoing marked improvements. A very neat, close fence has been constructed around a portion of the property for the purpose of keeping the Colonel's high grade dogs in the shade of his own vine and fig tree. C. W. Kent & Son, who have the contract for the reconstruction work, are also making important changes in the interior of the house. When the work is finished the Thornton dwelling house will be one of the finest in Glendale.

FRESH FROM BLYTHE

W. A. ANDERSON TAKING A TEN-DAY VACATION FROM RANCH WORK

Wm. A. Anderson is spending ten days at his Glendale home, 107 S. Isabel street, having just come from his ranch near Blythe. Mr. Anderson and his sons, George and Gilbert, have been on duty there since early last spring, and the rush of work would not permit the boys to accompany their father on his business trip here.

The Anderson ranch is situated two and a half miles northeast of the City of Blythe. Their crop this season consists mainly of 132 acres of cotton, 14 acres of alfalfa and several acres of corn. The cotton crop is good and will sell for 32 and 33 cents per pound. The marketing places are Galveston, Texas, and New Orleans, Louisiana. A market is being opened up in Los Angeles for this very important product. Mr. Anderson says there are 21,000 acres in cotton in the vicinity of Blythe this season.

Mr. Anderson until several years ago followed the occupation of contracting and building, and it is with great pleasure he witnesses the healthy building conditions in Glendale at present.

PERKINS FAMILY NOW LIVING AT STRAWBERRY PARK

H. L. Perkins, formerly of 407 W. Lomita avenue, has been for several days past in charge of the work of setting new poles and transferring the trolley wires to them, along the P. E. tracks from the S. P. crossing up around the curve. The poles are set on either side of the double tracks replacing the single center pole system. Mr. Perkins, who is one of the chief linemen for the P. E., has two foremen, only, as assistants, all of the men having gone out in the recent strike and none have yet returned to work. The family are now living at Strawberry Park. They moved from Glendale several months ago to a ranch near San Gabriel. This was sold recently and after vainly trying to rent a place, they bought an acre chicken ranch at Strawberry Park and moved there two weeks ago.

STONES BACK FROM PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Mrs. Fannie O. Stone and sons, Robert and Donald, arrived at home Sunday noon from Providence, R. I., where they spent the summer with Mrs. Stone's aged parents. They stood the long railway trip well and enjoyed their visit immensely.

DAN KELTY BUYS HOME

Dan Kelty, who is one of Glendale's enterprising young business men, has purchased the Arthur Campbell property on Highland Ave. and will take possession of it September 15th. Mr. Campbell is employed by the Union Oil Company and lives in Los Angeles.

OLD MAID CONVENTION

SUPPER AND NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT CELEBRATE PAYMENT CONGREGATIONAL DEBT

So far from calling out the Fire Department to extinguish the blaze at the Glendale Congregational Church Friday evening, the flames were fanned. Preliminary to the conflagration, however, a delicious supper was served to members of the church which was followed by a social hour. An "Old Maids' Convention" was then called to order upon the platform with Mrs. E. H. Willisford as presiding officer and Mrs. C. N. Van Dyke as secretary. The minutes of the last meeting as read by Mrs. Van Dyke concerned chiefly beautifying agencies, cosmetics, rouges, hair restorers, and the like which had been recommended at the last year's convention. The recommendations had been referred to a committee of investigation, Mrs. Colson, who was called upon to report and presented herself highly rouged and beautified as a demonstration of the wonderful things she had found. A Community Sing was then proposed and in the midst of it a knock at the door was heard and the distinguished Frenchman, Prof. Makeover, was announced. He asked the privilege of demonstrating the efficiency of his wonderful machine for converting old maids into young maids and was enthusiastically received. Each lady as she entered the cabinet was asked what she wished to become. The majority wanted to be made young

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1919

KEEP THE PROSPERITY BALL ROLLING

There never has been a time in the history of the United States that the attention of all the people desiring beautiful places in which to reside has been turned to California more than at the present time. Every incoming train brings men and women and whole families from different points in the east. During the period of the war, Southern California gained much favorable publicity. The thousands of young men who were in the service from California had a good word to speak for their native state. The description these young men gave to their comrades of California's desirable climate and beautiful scenery had its effect, and when these young men returned to their homes in their respective states, they made known what they had learned of this coast state, and now the fathers and mothers, the aunts and cousins are westward bound, determined to spend a winter, or perhaps a life-time in the banner residence state of the Union.

Contrary to the usual rule, these people are not coming here for the purpose of seeking employment, but they largely belong to that class who have amassed sufficient wealth in the east and middle west to spend the remainder of their days in retired life and perhaps invest money in industrial and business enterprises.

Glendale, like many other Southern California cities, needs hundreds of new residences to accommodate the people who are coming here, and if we wish to keep the prosperity ball rolling, it is up to the citizens of Glendale who are able to provide houses to accommodate these newcomers. It is a patriotic duty in which every good loyal citizen should do his part. We have repeatedly invited people from the east and middle west to come to California, and now when they are here it is only right and just that we should see that homes are provided for them.

MUSCLE VS. BRAIN

Jim Bennett says in the Compton Enterprise that the Methodist parson there agrees with the theory inaugurated up in Washington, that church bells are an unnecessary means of advertising when there is printer's ink available. Many churches will still cling to bells for their advertising, however, some for sentimental reasons, some because they believe in always doing what they always have done, and some because it takes more brains to get up a newspaper ad than it does to pull a bell rope.

OLD BACHELOR'S COMMENT

In commenting on the ruling of the city dads of Pasadena that the plunge at Brookside Park there shall not be used on Sundays, the Lamanda Park Herald editor thinks it is all wrong, as cleanliness is next to godliness. Cleanliness may be next to godliness, but the city dads there are doubtless also next to what the kids would do if the plunge were opened, and that's why they keep it closed. It's not our funeral, but we've seen very few kids that ever went swimming to get clean, anyway.

WHEN

When man to man is true and kind,—
When right no longer bows to might,—
When willing hands can labor find,
When prosperous days shall loom in sight,
When honest work receives fair pay,—
When pampered idlers meet with scorn
When even justice rules the day,
Then joyful hearts shall greet the morn.

When avarice shall be stamped out, —
When selfishness has passed away,—
When confidence replaces doubt,
When you can trust what people say,—
When idle tongues shall meet contempt,—
When scandal mongers shall be dumb,—
When intoxicants no longer tempt,
Weak minded men with beer and rum.

When home shall be man's dearest place,—
When constant wives shall be the rule,—
When children playfully shall race,
When in time they try to get school,
When bores shall one another bore,
And spare those who don't want to hear, —
When rich men seek to help the poor,
And one anothers burdens bear.

When public officers shall be Content to work for public good,—
When lawmakers shall frame their laws,
In language to be understood,
When doctors shall attend the sick
With a desire their ills to mend,
And not like leeches, suck and stick
As long as they have coin to spend.

When honesty's so common-place
It ceases to create surprise,
When ignorance is such disgrace,
That all shall grow discreet and wise.
When all things are as they should be,
This life will be worth living then,
But there's a slight uncertainty,
So much depends upon the when.

in the fact that the Christian is sure of victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. First, there must be no compromise. The Church is either right or she is wrong. Don't try to carry water on both shoulders. Don't straddle the fence, live on one side or the other. Take your choice. Second, the conquest is to be little by little. God says "I will not entirely cast out all your enemies." Sanctification is both sudden and gradual. The moment a man is born again he is just as much fitted for heaven as he would be if he lived a hundred years. Sanctification in the eyes of God is a finished thing, but the world looks at it differently; the conquest is little by little. Third, there are certain agents which God uses in this conquest. No man can fight the battle of life in his own strength. Jesus Christ Himself was the "Angel" who should go before. There are just two things to choose from—the good or the bad—saints or sinners—heaven or hell—saved or lost—Angels or hornets. You can take your choice.

In following the Angel, five things are necessary to put out of our lives. First—"Unbelief." Unbelief makes God a liar. He that believeth on the Lord Jesus Christ shall be saved and he that believeth not shall be damned. Second—"Lethargy." "Why stand ye idle all the day." God left us here for service. The Angel always leads in the way of service. What are you doing for the kingdom of God? What are you doing to make the world a better place for the return of our Lord Jesus Christ? How do you expect to enjoy Heaven if you have never done anything to merit it? Third—"Pride," the thing that must be put out of our lives. "Pride goeth before a fall. Christ humbled Himself and became obedient unto the death of the cross. God cannot use a proud man or a proud woman. The Angel will lead us into an humble life. Fourth—"The spirit of impatience must be put out of our lives. "Fret not thyself because of evil doers." Impatience is the work of the hornets. Fifth—"Covetousness, "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall." "Thou shalt not covet." This sin is the most insidious of all; the worst one in the catalogue. The man who is covetous is classed with murderers and adulterers, and the word of God declares that he cannot be a leader of the people or hold any sacred office. Neither can a covetous man come into the Lord's Supper, unless he comes as the man who went into the wedding feast without a wedding garment and insulted his lord.

Summing it all up, you may follow the Angel and do whatsover you do to the glory of God, or you can have the mark of the hornets upon you and be a Christian loafer. An Angel or a hornet? Who is your leader? God says if you will follow the Angel of the Covenant He will stand by you; and you in turn, are either an angel who will lead others to Christ or a hornet to lead others into sin.

Our Father in Heaven, we thank Thee that Thou hast given us the power to choose. O God, help us to be true men and women.

INTERESTING SERMONS

PASTOR COLE PREACHES TWICE TO LARGE AND ATTENITVE AUDIENCES

The morning sermon at Central Christian Church yesterday was on the work of the Church Extension Board of the Christian Churches of the United States and Canada, which in its 30 years of existence has loaned over $2,000,000 and helped to build 2000 churches, many of them in Southern California, with a loss of only $1930 in all that time. Rev. Cole spoke of the reform in church architecture in recent years wherein useless ornamentation has given way to strict severity and utility in outline, thus conserving all the space for practical work. He commended the Christian Science people for introducing a beautiful and stately style of architecture, which prevails in all their buildings. It was a practical talk, rather than a doctrinal sermon and many interesting facts were given on the subject of church architecture.

The evening sermon was on the "Four Dimensions of Christianity." Under "Breadth" the speaker told of the wide-reaching scope of Christianity, how it takes in high and low, white, black, brown and yellow, and Jesus is the same pitying Savior to all of them. "Length" was referred to in a double sense. The Christian religion has length of days and in the nearly 2000 years it has been on the earth it has grown and brightened, with each succeeding year. And as the Christian older grows, his religion becomes more and more sweet to him as the days lengthen. In heights of service and beauty the Christian religion ascends to the heavens, yet it reaches down to the lowest depths and takes firm hold of the sinner, whom it raises to the stature of a full-grown man in Christ Jesus. Down into the reeking slums and into the nations where intelligence is the lowest, the pitying hand of the Master reaches, and always to bless. In general, the Christian religion is so long, so broad, so high and so deep that weak human nature never attains to its fullness. No follower of Christ boasts of perfection, but humbly admits that he can only constantly strive for and never fully attain. A religion that is not so high and holy that it keeps men ever striving is not worthy of followers.

The attendance at both services, including the Bible School, was nearly back to normal.

Rev. Cole announced that next Sunday will be "Go-to-college" day. The morning service will be given over entirely to this. College songs will be sung and a medley of such will be played by the pianist, Miss Florence Heacock, and there will be addresses on phases of college life and a graduate will talk on "Why I Went to College."

HOME AT LAST

DR. MABRY AGAIN MEETS AND GREETS FAMILY AND MANY FRIENDS

Dr. Wm. Mabry of 115 E. Acacia avenue arrived at home last Friday from strenuous medical service in the homeland. He was at Camp Lewis eight months and went through the influenza and pneumonia epidemic that carried away many of the boys. He had 423 cases of pneumonia at one time and his labors were so incessant that he broke down and came near dying with the disease himself. Luckily he had given considerable study to treatment for pneumonia before entering the service, so was well equipped to combat the plague when it came. From Camp Lewis he was transferred to Fort Douglass, Utah, where he served six months in General Hospital 27. He received his discharge last Wednesday and arrived at home two days later, since which time he has been getting acquainted again with his family and friends. He was greatly pleased that his mother, Mrs. Irene Mabry, and sister, Mrs. Pearl Smith, of Santa Ana, were here to greet him, also his wife's brother, Lieut. H. M. Mayne. The latter expects to soon return to his college work in the University of Pennsylvania.

LIKES TO LIVE IN GLENDALE

Morgan Potter, who lives at 440 Ivy street, is mightily pleased with Glendale, coming here, as he did four months ago from Beacon, N. Y., 60 miles up the Hudson from New York City. He was in the manufacturing business there making vehicle brakes which he sold all over the United States and in many foreign countries. Much of his work is still in use in California on wagons and buggies The auto killed his business, however, and he is now enjoying a well-earned rest, after more than 50 years of strenuous work. He has a son, Pierre V. Potter, living at 446 West Broadway, who has been out here eight years. Both he and his father are well satisfied with California life and have no desire to return to the Empire State.

THE HISTORICAL COCK FIGHT

In Berlin lived a boasting cock,
The ruler of a well-trained flock.
On each spur he put a gaff,
Then he crowed and loudly laughed!
"Now I'm ready for the fight,
I'll put those other birds to flight."
For forty years they have been a fool
And over them I soon shall rule.
They're nothing more than a bunch of asses,
On which to turn my two new gasses;
And when I cross the channel o'er,
A bray from them I'll hear no more.
At little Belgium then he flew,
"To that little bird I'll just say,
'shoo.'"
The little Bantam fought him back
But soon was knocked clear off the track.
Then into France with his flock he went,
For pillage and on murder bent.
"In fifteen days just wait and see,
In Paris with my flock I'll be."
In France he met a blood-red game,
A scion of ancestral fame.
Who crowed at morn, "Your flock
I'll view,
And from the lot I'll take a few."
Then on the field came Scottish gray,
And placed himself right in the way.
He crowed back at the Berlin fellow,
"I, too, have come out here to bellow.
I was sent out here by Johnnie Bull,
Some feathers from your tail to pull.
Although my beak is a little blunt,
I shall try my best to do that stunt."
The Berlin cock was not dismayed,
He sent back home and brought up aid.
He sent again and brought up more,
To fill up the depleted corps.
"Their backs are now against the
wall,
Then I shall coop them one and all."
The gay bird heard their horrid
threat,
He said, "He's sure to try I'll bet.
Across the water I have a cousin,
When he starts fighting things go buzzin'.
I'll tell him our backs are against the
wall,
And that bloody threat I hope he'll stall."
The cousin heard the painful cry,
And the fire flashed from his eagle eye.
He said, "Dear cousin, I'll heed
your call,
I'll loose your back from against the wall.
When it comes to fighting I'm the stuff,
To that Berlin rooster I'll give enough.
Each of my spurs has seven points,
To loosen up his gouty joints.
My flock was grown from several breeds,
Each noted for some famous deed;
From California back to Maine,
I have a new and distinct strain.
When I turn them loose in the fighting pit,
That Berlin cock will throw a fit."
The clarion crow of this Chanticleer,
Filled the Berlin rooster's heart with fear,
Who said, "It's time for me to go,
And on the road I'll not be slow.
I'm stricken with malignant roup,
And into Holland I'll make a coup."
To him all things looked quite blue,
And across the line he quickly flew.
Tail feathers gone and wings adroop,
Not fit to make good bouillon soup.
—N. H. Palmer.

but some did not insist upon that. If they could be made singers or readers or talented in other ways they would be content. The machine made much noise and Mr. Beers as the professor was a great success. For each lady who entered the cabinet a substitute came out and gave some number of the evening's program. Mrs. Franklin was accompanied by her dog and almost immediately the machine turned out yards of sausage.

The spinsters assembled in convention were represented by Mesdames E. H. Willisford, C. N. Van Dyke, Blake Franklin, Pierre Potter, Ray Phillips, Vantine Smith, Louis Abell, J. E. Bellue, E. D. Yard, H. W. Yarrick, Sam Frazee and G. F. Colson.

The substitutes turned out by the machine were represented by Mrs. Hartley Shaw, who sang; Mrs. McReynolds, who read a fish story; Mrs. McRae, who sang, and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, a professional entertainer now residing in Glendale who gave several fine readings. The made-over lady whom Mrs. George Adams represented had desired to be rich. Mrs. Adams in that character reported the riches of the Ladies' Aid Society, which had paid a note of $700 and thus cleared the church of debt. Mr. Willisford was called upon to tell of the present condition of the church, and Mr. Yard, a member of the original building committee, applied the match and burned the canceled note. Margery Yarrick, Evelyn and Dorothy Shaw, Millicent Alvord and Gladys Thistlewhite represented the young maids and gave musical selections and chalk talks.

sorts, made her marvel. Also she found them very conservative in thought, behavior and spirit as compared with the western people she knows best. She spent some wonderful hours in the Senate and House of Representatives and heard many of the important speeches made by opponents of the peace treaty. They put up some great arguments and she much regretted that she had to leave before they were answered by the advocates of the league. They convinced her of one thing—that it is a much bigger proposition to work out than most of us realize.

Another place to which Miss Green went again and again was the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington where injured soldiers of the A. E. F. are treated. She says the care and opportunities given them are simply wonderful. The finest of artificial arms and limbs are fitted to soldiers who have lost those members, and all who will take it will be given college or vocational training. The soldiers suffering from physical wounds are delighted to see visitors and she was glad to do what she could to while away the tedious hours for them. The most pathetic cases she saw were those suffering from shell shock and nerve wreckage. Some of these have so completely lost their memories that the nurses have to resort to the most primitive instruction in their endeavors to awaken memory. One of these patient nurses could often be seen sitting beside a soldier who looked the picture of health, going over with him a primer lesson such as: "Is it a dog? Yes, it is a good dog." Very few of these sufferers, she says, can hold any sustained conversation.

LA CANADA

There has been quite an epidemic of sore throat and fever among the children of La Canada the past week.

Announcement has been made that the schools of La Canada will open September 23d.

Relatives of Sergeant and Mrs. Edwin Cooper report that they will reach La Canada Friday or Saturday of this week unless something unforeseen occurs to prevent. The sergeant's wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Cooper, motored to San Francisco to meet him on his arrival there. If they are here Sunday, there will probably be a family reunion at the Green home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Green, Miss Lulu Green and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Max Green, spent the week-end and Labor Day at Acton, at the foot of Mount Gleason, forty or fifty miles above Saugus. It was organized as a deer hunting party. The deer were seen and shots were fired at them without effect. For their comfort the ranger told them they had better luck than any other hunters who had visited the neighborhood this year.

TUJUNGA

Mrs. R. H. Peebles and her sister, Miss Fannie Greer, from Los Angeles, spent the week-end with their friend, Miss McKee. Miss Fannie owns the half acre across the road from Bide-a-wee, and sees much improvement in Tujunga since they were here last.

In the afternoon Miss Stella Wieman gave a history of the trunk that was given her by the local Red Cross workers for her trip abroad.

Those interested in chickens are beginning to figure out what their flocks have done the past season. Mr. Bell figures that in the past ten months his oldest birds have each averaged 187 eggs, which if continued fairly in the next two months should bring the average close to the 200-egg mark. With the high prices for eggs the past year, the balance sheet should show a fine profit notwithstanding the cost of feed. The young pullets are beginning to lay and will help very much in paying the feed bills as the old hens begin to moult.

Bruce Parmeter and wife from L. A. were in attendance at the Home Canners' meeting Wednesday evening.

E. H. Hartman was a caller on Monday. He has returned from Arizona, and is now with the Llewelyn Iron Works as stock-keeper in Los Angeles.

At the meeting of the Woman's Club on Thursday Mrs. Mendenhall gave a fine paper on the use and abuses of small parks, their need for recreation, and as playground for the young. Mrs. Vance, of the Vance Boys' Club of Los Angeles talked very interestingly of her work along the lines of giving to boys down and out a real home, and her methods used to fit these boys for their life work. From the home thirty-eight boys were called in the last war and all have returned safely to the home nest, only two meeting with disaster from shot wounds. Mrs. Vance's health has given out under the strain of fifteen years' continuous work, and she is resting for a few weeks here, hoping that she may not be forced to give up this very interesting work, that means so much to boys who have no homes.

Mr. Vance of Los Angeles was a caller on Sunday for a few hours' visit with his wife, at Miss Gilbert's home.

Mrs. Pierce and Miss Lula Hancock are spending a week at the Hancock home on San Ysidro Road.

Wednesday evening's Home Canners welcome proved a very happy affair. A large number from Sunland, Crescenta, La Canada and Tujunga enjoyed the occasion. The orchestra played some very fine selections during the supper hour, interspersed with a number of songs from local talent. At the close of the supper, John McGroarty acted as toastmaster and responses were given by men who were in eleven different branches of service, and made the meeting a very interesting one. The refreshments were served by the ladies, consisting of coffee and sandwiches followed by ice cream and cake. The serving was done by the young boys and girls of Tujunga. Those social gatherings are a wonderful help to a small and growing town, as it stimulates interest and brings us nearer together on more vital topics that will ultimately be beneficial for all our best interests if we can avoid all petty wrangling. Paul Johnson, the last of our boys to arrive from service, was in attendance, shaking hands with old friends.
